It will rest with the War Office ee that the principles on which the scheme is based accord with those approved for the United gdom.

. (Cancelled).

. With regard to the fortresses of Gibraltar and Malta, the defence schemes will be prepared and ued by the G.Os.C.-in-C., and forwarded to the War Office through the Field Marshal Commanding-in-ef, and High Commissioner in the Mediterranean. . At a place abroad where the general commanding is not also the Governor, the revision of the eme will be considered by a committee to be assembled annually by the governor, consisting of the O.C. troops as president, and of not more than five members (including the O.C.R.A. and the C.R.E.) ected on account of their military, naval, and local knowledge. If a naval officer is not available to e on the committee, advantage will be taken of the presence of any of His Majesty's ships to obtain ies on all matters involving an expression of naval opinion. The scheme, as revised, will be submitted he governor, who will transmit it home for examination by the Colonial Defence Committee.

ecommendations for alterations in armament or personnel are on no account to be embodied in a eme of defence.

. In the United Kingdom the coast defence commander stands in the same relation to the G.O.C.-in-C. command, in the case of larger coast defences, as does the G.O.C. a division; and in the case of the aller coast defence commands, as does the O.C. a brigade. . The coast defence commander must make himself thoroughly acquainted with the administrative vices appertaining to his command; and should he observe any deficiencies or defects in the stores, plies, equipment, or works necessary to place and maintain the defences of his command in an ient condition, he will be responsible for bringing such deficiencies and defects to the notice of the eral officer i/c administration, as prescribed in para. 82. The representatives of services and depart-nts, who are charged in peace with their several administrative duties in each coast defence command, l also be responsible for the elaboration of the administrative arrangements required in the command war, and will, as far as possible, remain to carry out such arrangements in time of war.

While under the orders of the coast defence commander for the purposes of discipline and interior economy, these officers will correspond direct on subjects connected with their technical duties, which do not involve questions of principle, with the heads of their services and departments under the general officer i/c administration of the command. (See paras. 192 and 193.) The coast defence commander will thus be relieved of administrative detail and routine correspondence, and be able to devote proper attention to the organization of his coast defences, the distribution and training of his troops for war, and the preparation and revision of his scheme of defence.

81. The coast defence commander will take due precautions against unauthorized persons obtaining access to the works, armaments, and defensive establishments and communications of his command. (See Appendix IX.) He will be responsible that proper arrangements are made for communicating with the local naval authorities, and for regulating the traffic into ports or harbours so far as the military service is concerned.

82. The coast defence commander will submit to the G.O.C.-in-C. all proposals regarding alterations in or strengthening of, the armament, works, and defences of his command, and will keep him informed on all matters regarding which that officer should be acquainted. He will communicate with the general officer i/c administration concerning the making good of defects in armament, works, or defences, and if the service cannot be effected locally the latter officer will refer to the War Office; when the approval of the War Office has been obtained, the necessary administrative arrangements will be made by the general officer i/c administration.

The coast defence commander will communicate with the general officer i/c administration concerning deficiencies of supplies or stores, and the latter officer will communicate with the War Office if the requirements cannot be met from within the command, or are not covered by regulation.

Subordinate officers in charge of such documents and maps will also forward to the G.O.C.-in-C. in time to reach him by the above-mentioned date, a list, with a similar certificate.

HAMPSTEAD,

MAINTENANCE, CLOTHING, AND EDUCATION OF THE DAUGHTERS OF SOLDIERS, ORPHANS OR NOT.

Patrons:

HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
HER MAJESTY QUEEN ALEXANDRA.
FIELD-MARSHAL H.R.H. THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT, K.G., &c., &c.
H.R.H. THE DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT.

Subscriptions and donations in support of the Charity will be thankfully received by Messrs. Cox & Co., Charing Cross, London, S.W.; by the Secretary, Colonel E. L. F. Jennings, M.V.O., to whom crossed cheques and Postal Orders on the Charing Cross Post Office should be made payable.

The Home was constructed and is equipped for 200 girls, and the desire of the Committee is to maintain the full complement.

The need of such an institution is apparent from the fact that there are on an average three candidates brought forward at each election to every one admitted.

The Committee earnestly appeal to a generous public to aid them in the support of the Charity. They also ask for the co-operation in the good work of every Regiment and Corps.

A contribution of but 6d. a year from each Non-Commissioned Officer and Man throughout the Service would provide for the support of a child from every Regiment.

The Home is open to visitors daily between 10 and 5, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Committee invite the inspection of all friends of the Soldier.
